OUR VISION

Inspiring conservation on private land

ABOUT QUEEN ELIZABETH II NATIONAL TRUST

QEII National Trust/Ngā Kairauhi Papa (the Trust) plays the leading role in private land conservation in Aotearoa/New Zealand. We are an independent charitable trust established in 1977 under our own Act of Parliament. QEII was established to encourage and promote, for the benefit and enjoyment of present and future generations, the provision, protection, preservation and enhancement of special areas of land or bodies of fresh water.

ABOUT THE LAND PROTECTION TEAM

The role of the Land Protection Team is to deploy the Trust's field representatives and closely support them to help achieve the Trust's four strategic objectives:

- Area of high-value land under robust protection increases
- Values within protected areas are enhanced
- QEII's work is part of large-scale projects

- People are inspired to connect with QEII-protected places

The core functions of the Land Protection Team include the quality assurance and processing of new protection proposals, solving problems and guiding the management of existing covenants and QEII properties and assisting the field representatives' engagement with local stakeholders and communities.

The Team has three sections, The Operational Services group, the Legal group and the Land Protection group that provides the primary interface with field representatives.

POSITION PURPOSE

Advisors manage new covenant and covenant management projects to ensure all covenants achieve covenant objectives and satisfy QEII policies. Advisors provide ecological or specialist advice, support and make recommendations regarding new covenant protection and existing covenant management for QE II. They work closely with Regional representatives and solicitors but also engage with all teams within the organisation, covenantors and relevant stakeholders.

There are three levels of Land Protection Advisor – they are:

The Advisor level is a transactional role where an employee gathers experience in the operational aspects of an organisation. This would include the administration of new protection proposals, providing support to Regional Representatives, reporting, meeting stakeholders, understanding the organisational processes and policies.

The Senior Advisor understands all aspects of the Advisor's role, undertakes more complex or difficult matters and engages stakeholders on them. The senior advisor is an expert problem-solver - identifying issues quickly, and barriers to success and making recommendations. Contributes to the planning of work and supports Advisors by mentoring.

The Principal Advisor has broad experience in the organisation and brings a record of strong delivery and insight. They are adept at research and analysis and are regarded as experts in the policy and legislation. They manage the most complex issues and have effective solutions. Their insight is valuable in providing recommendations into organisational strategy, of which they may draft sections. Supports Team Leader by assisting in preparing organisational documents such as Board papers.
